SPEAKER BRIEFING CHECKLIST

› KNOW YOUR SPEAKER

- You need to show your speaker that you understand the type of his/her content.
- Make sure you have a clear idea of what you want him/her to talk about.
- Research what this person is all about.

This shows you have done your homework and are well prepared. So the speaker and moderator will be well prepared too when it comes to the event.

› FOR SPEAKER & MODERATOR/HOST

A detailed briefing for speaker & moderator is essentiell to transfer your message to the audience.
Even hostesses need a detailed briefing because they are in contact with the participants.

Part of the questions mentioned already are relevant for your speaker briefing too:

- What is the aim of your event and how should the speaker or moderator contribute to it?
- What formats will be used?
- Which target group will be addressed?
- How much interaction would you like from the speaker?
- How many participants do you expect?
- What technology do you provide? Is there a laptop including a headset or is there a lectern?
- Where should speakers send their presentations by when and in what format?

Regarding these and many more questions, we provide a checklist for your event.

INTERACTION WITH AUDIENCE

INTERACTION WITH AUDIENCE

Engaging with the participants is essentiell for your events success.

Depending on the events target group you can use the following examples to interact with the audience.

- Gamification
- Hashtag
- Call to Action (CTA)
- Voting
- Question & Answer (Q&A)
- Give-Away
- Registration of participants

INTERACTION WITH AUDIENCE

› Gamification

Each of us has remained a child so try to awake the inner child.

Gamification is based on people's innate instinct to compete with others. Today it means the application of game-typical elements in a non-game context. You can increase the attention span by using gamification for your event.

- Augmented Reality
- Virtual Reality
- Configurator
- Event App with games regarding the products
- Drive the GROHE X MOTION TRUCK

INTERACTION WITH AUDIENCE

› Hashtag

The total number of global social network users is around 4,2 billion in 2021. (Statista)

To interact with the audience via social media works by using an event specific hashtag.
For example: #GroheX

By using the hashtag you include the participants and create awareness for your event.
People who are not participating will be potential new customers or potential new participants.

In addition it is free advertisement for your event.

INTERACTION WITH AUDIENCE

› Call to Action (CTA)

A Call to Action is a direct request to your visitor to perform a specific action.

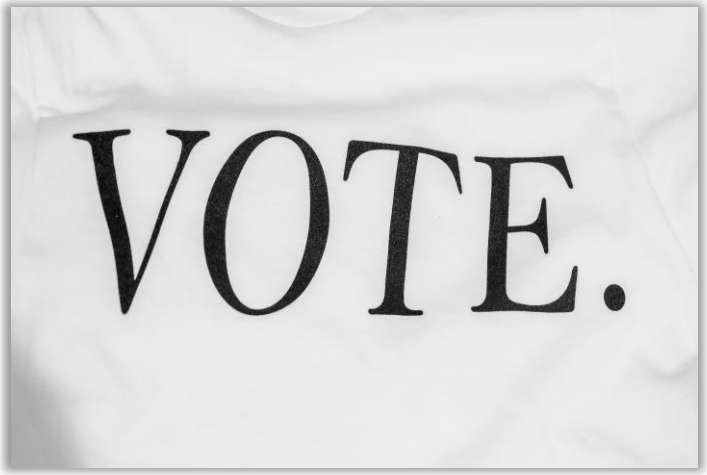

By adding a Call to Action to your hashtag: #GroheX the participants know exactly what to do.

You can also add a Call to Action on print advertisement, social media and GROHE X MOTION TRUCK Branding.

Example CTAs are:

- Sign up for our newsletter
- Visit our website
- Follow us on social media
- Click on the link
- Register for your event
- Buy our product

INTERACTION WITH AUDIENCE

› Voting

Participants of events want to be able to contribute.

Using voting tools, even those who are otherwise rather reserved can express themselves. With anonymous voting you can get honest opinions and a general atmosphere.

In addition you can incorporate the knowledge of your participants into your event.

Example voting tools are:

- Sli.do
- Mentimeter
- Teambits

INTERACTION WITH AUDIENCE

› Question & Answer (Q&A)

Live Q&As can be memorable, useful and entertaining.

It is a chance for the presenter to expand in ways of interest to the audience. Also you will have less preparation time than using apps/tools.

To prevent boredom, Q&As should not be longer than 15 minutes.

Tip: Create fake questions and brief 2-3 participants to ask them. Now the audience will have no inhibitions to ask real questions.

INTERACTION WITH AUDIENCE

› Give-Away

You want the participants to talk about your event? Give them something to talk about!

Participants will be emotionalized by Give-Aways and talk with their own network about it.
Here are some examples:

- Downloads regarding product information, speeches, event recordings, presentations
- Google Cardboards for ultimate participation as branded Give-Aways
- Sustainable Give-Aways
- GROHE Products the participants get to know during the event

Give-Aways leave a positive impression precisely when they are useful and have a brand fit.

INTERACTION WITH AUDIENCE

› Registration of participants

The more personal the better.

The presence at promotional events such as trade fairs or road shows is still an important part of the marketing strategy. Live events offer the opportunity to get to know the audience in a targeted manner and in direct contact, thereby creating sustainable brand engagement.

You can register participants by using a QR Code, using a banner or going through the audience with an iPad and get in direct contact.

DRAMATURGY

DRAMATURGY

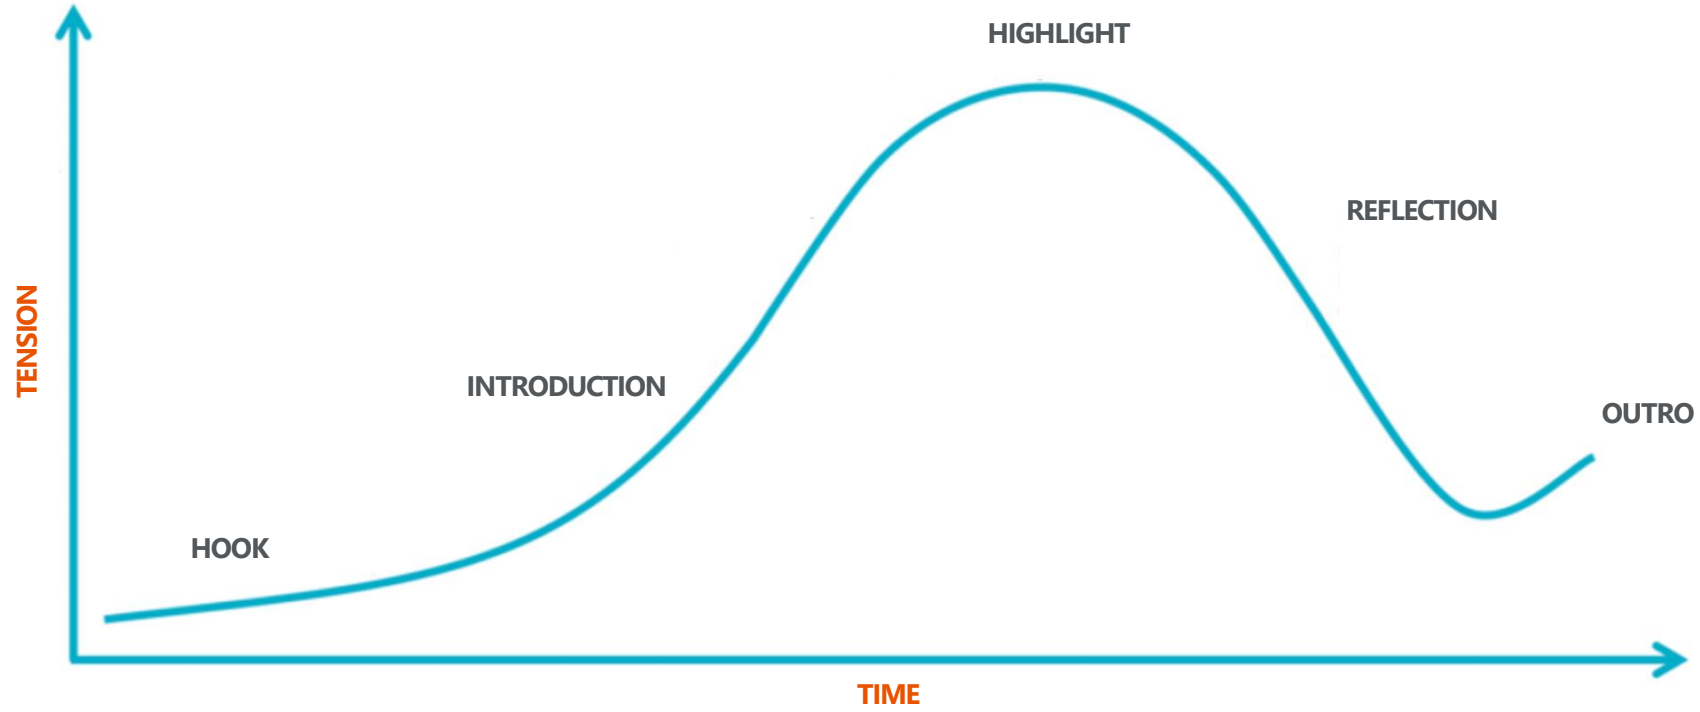

A sophisticated event dramaturgy is the key to sustainable success.

Depending on the events aim and target group you can answer the following questions to find the dramaturgy.

- Which motto could serve as a red thread for this?
- Which story can cheer or touch the guests?
- How do you achieve the set aim while taking your resources into account?
- What highlights can and would you like to set?

DRAMATURGY

PLANNING

DRAMATURGY

PLANNING (Invitation, agenda & material dispatch, marketing)

- Dramaturgy starts with fixing the agenda and including the marketing material.

HOOK (Special beginning, teaser)

- You have to catch the audience during the first 3 seconds. That's why a lot of events start with video content to give a short event teaser.

INTRODUCTION (Welcome, warmup, agenda)

- Here the moderator welcomes the audience and gives an overview with going into detail with the agenda.

HIGHLIGHT (High tension)

- The events highlight reveals what the audience was waiting for and why they are participating, e.g.: special speaker/product launch.

REFLECTION (Learnings, presentation, Q&A/discussion)

- The moderator gives a review of the event, ideally with speaker. A good opportunity to interact with the participants and keep the attention high.

OUTRO (Conclusion, outlook, goodbye)

- During the outro the moderator gives an outlook to upcoming events and concludes the events information.
